INTRODUCTION

Publication of the vital records of Middleborough, Massachusetts, was begun in 1900 when transcriptions by George Ernest Bowman were printed in the Massachusetts Society of Mayflower Descendants' quarterly, The Mayflower Descendant. Through 1937, when the original series of The Mayflower Descendant ceased publication, Bowman transcribed the volumes titled "Early Records," "Book 1," and "Book 2." In addition, all but about fifty pages of "Book 4, pt. 1" were printed. These transcriptions covered births and deaths in Middleborough to the 1790's, and marriages to the 1770's.

Middleborough, Massachusetts, Vital Records reprints all of the material published in The Mayflower Descendant from 1900 to 1937 (with the addition of one page that was inadvertently omitted—page 241 of original Book 1, which is on page 77 of Volume One of this set). This reprinted material is contained in pages 1-242 of Volume One. Succeeding pages of Volume One and all of Volume Two consist of new transcriptions from the original vital records of the town of Middleborough.

Transcription Method

Material transcribed exclusively for this volume was interpreted from microfilm copies of the original records held by the town. Transcriptions then were proofread against the original books at the town hall in Middleborough, with the exception of pages 243 to 301 of Volume One that were taken from "Book 4, Part I," which was not located. The microfilm of this section, however, was clear enough to proofread.

Transcriptions were made in as literal a manner as possible, exactly as the entries appear in the records. Because of the difficulty of transcribing handwritten material to typeset material, and the number of transcribers necessary to a project of this size, there may be some discrepancies regarding punctuation or spelling of names.

Should errors be discovered in these records, kindly notify the Massachusetts Society of Mayflower Descendants.
